SELENIS
SPACE

We specialize in space services and legal consultancy for public and private entities in the aerospace sector.

Selenis Space is a company that connects the technical worlds of Latin America and Europe to offer strategic, legal, and operational solutions in the space industry.

We are based in Colombia and have a vision for expansion into Luxembourg.

We guide missions, connect ecosystems, and transform ideas into real orbits.

2025

ABOUT US

Vision 2025-2035

Over the next 10 years, Selenis Space will be a key player in the development of the space industry between Latin America and Europe.

We envision ourselves as the leading technical consultancy in mission design, satellite operations, and international partnerships—facilitating space projects that transform industries, universities, and governments.

Through a rigorous and human-centered approach, we will build a global network of aerospace talent capable of accelerating innovation, strategically reducing costs, and raising the region's technical standards.

Mision

To guide public, private, and academic entities in the development of their space missions through high-quality technical, legal, and operational consultancy.

We facilitate complex processes with clarity, speed, and human-centered support, breaking down cultural and technical barriers to connect Latin American talent with international space standards.

Brand essence

Orbital connection between technical rigor and human closeness.

Selenis Space is more than a consultancy—it's a strategic force driving space development with precision, elegance, and empathy.

In every project, we weave networks of trust, technical clarity, and lasting relationships that transcend borders.

SPACE SERVICES

Mission and Nanosatellite Design.

Based on European and American standards, we help you define mission requirements, select suppliers, and identify the most suitable technical solutions.

Model-Based Systems Engineering (MBSE)

We use models and technical requirements to reduce development time and optimize components.

Satellite Operations

24/7 monitoring, anomaly diagnostics, and reliable operation by certified experts.

SPACE LEGAL CONSULTING

Satellite Registration

Advisory services for registering your satellites under international regulations.

Bilateral Agreements Between Nations

We provide support in legal and diplomatic processes for international space cooperation.

Aerospace Commercial Agreements

We draft and structure technical and legal business agreements for companies in the sector.

DIFFERENTIATORS

Núcleos Estratégicos de Selenis Space: Precisión que conecta

At Selenis Space, we understand that true leadership in the space industry is built not only on technical knowledge, but also on vision, humanity, and flawless execution.

Our pillars are intertwined like the systems of a spacecraft: each one fulfills a specific function, but together they drive the entire journey forward.

Applied Technical Rigor

We don't improvise — we structure.

From model-based systems engineering (MBSE) to real-time satellite operations, we apply internationally validated methodologies, integrating precision, traceability, and efficiency into every component.

Our teams work with European and American standards, ensuring a technical quality that can be both felt and measured.

Transcontinental Connection

We unite continents, we accelerate ideas.

We act as a bridge between Latin America and Europe—not just as territories, but as cultures, talents, and systems. We facilitate strategic relationships between governments, universities, startups, and established companies.

Our network of partners is an invisible yet powerful infrastructure: technical, legal, and human.

Human-Faced Consulting

Closeness is not the opposite of professionalism—it's its extension.

We support each client with empathy, clarity, and a deep understanding of their challenges.

We act as both guide and co-pilot.

We avoid inaccessible language, focusing instead on enabling informed decision-making—with confidence and assurance.

Efficiency with Impact

Speed without direction doesn't interest us.

Selenis designs intelligent processes that reduce costs without sacrificing quality.

Every deliverable, every recommendation, and every connection is crafted to generate real impact: savings, optimization, and tangible progress.

We are accelerators of results—not just of processes.

Functional Aesthetics & Strategic Order

Functional Aesthetics & Strategic Order

Beauty also communicates trust.

We design materials, presentations, data, and processes with a clean, modern, and professional aesthetic.

Our visual form reflects our technical foundation—everything is crafted to generate clarity, understanding, and decisive action.

Visual order is part of our value proposition
